American Fleet To Be Welcome In Australia Almost
As If British

THE American fleet will go to New Zealand and Australia, where it will be received with almost as much feeling of brotherhood as if it were a British fleet. While the Antipodeans are loyal to the Empire, their sympathies, interests and instincts are even closer to America than to the mother country. In spite of the loosening of the bonds between Britain and the Dominions, there will doubtless always be a British Empire; and, so long as there is, America will not belong to it, nor even be in alliance with it. But if, in some future age, even the formal ties should be broken, so that there would remain only the sympathies of a common language and institutions, the dominant factor in that informal and independent grouping would be, not England, but America. Already the Dominions are beginning to look on us as the elder brother, who attained first and completely what they are tardily and partially approaching.

THE French academy has just admitted two new words to the dictionary, and rejected several others. It is a strange, unscientific standard, of which French academicians and American schoolmarmns have the monopoly. That is the notion that some words and expressions are "right" and others "wrong," and that it is the business of dictionaries and grammars to lay down the law for them.

The true standard is to find out, what ought to be, but what is. Our newer dictionaries have risen to this standard. They record the good, the bad and the indifferent, merely stating the facts as to actual usage. Scientific grammars do the same. But not school grammars. They are still lawgivers of "right" in a matter where there is no right or wrong, but only usage.

NEGOTIATIONS are reported and denied between Japan and Brazil, for systematized Japanese immigration. If there is to be any such experiment, Brazil is the best place for it. It would raise question of smuggling, as it would in Mexico. And Brazil is the one large-scale laboratory of international assimilation. There are social lines in Brazil, but there are not on lines of race.

Educated and successful people of all races constitute one group, and the poor and ignorant of all races another. Another race, of the high quality of the Japanese, would not unduly complicate that situation. America, having so far made a total failure of its two race problems, and having shown no capacity to approach them except on the basis that the dominant race shall do injustice to the other, is the last place in the world to try the experiment.

"AMERICAN drama is a failure," says a European critic. "America is so far ahead of Europe, with respect to the theater, that it is futile even to strike a balance," says an American producer, just returning from Europe. The European deprecates the inartistic unseriousness of American plays and the superficiality of American audiences. The American criticizes the over-seriousness of European audiences, the scenery, and the frequent foisting of under-studies in the acting.

Of course, both are right. American theaters are below standard in the things Europe demands, and European theaters in the things America demands. For that matter, rent a high class European house. It will have ancestral pictures, rare old furniture and fine dignity, but bad plumbing and worse heating.

The same class of American house will have seven "modern" bath rooms, central heating, perfect lighting, crude, new furniture, and pictures bought over night. The new nation values the new, and the old takes pride in the old. Why should either look down on the other?

Resume Trial of Accounting Suit In Superior Court

Trial of the $250,000 accounting suit brought by stockholders of the Pacific corporation well No. 16, at Signal Hill, was resumed today before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, after an adjournment that was taken last Friday.

A. J. Charlie and other plaintiffs, who occupied office last week in presenting their case, have not yet finished, and there was prospect that the trial would last all of this week.

During an interval in the plaintiff's testimony Friday, B. R. Parrott, one of the defendants, took the stand on his own behalf, and explained his connection with the well, and what he had done with funds that came into his connection. These went chiefly, he said, to Louis Kleindeinst, Los Angeles attorney, who had charge of the well for a time, and who admits having received about $117,000.

State CALIFORNIA SOLONS PLAN REAL WORK WEDNESDAY

Little of Importance Taken Up at Opening Session at State Capital

SEE HOT BATTLE ON GOVERNOR'S BUDGET

State Highway Financing Also to Be Center of Sharp Fight, Indicated

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 24.—The 46th biennial session of the California legislature was to reconvene here at noon today to wind up what is expected by many to be the shortest term of work in recent years.

Practically all the legislators were on hand this morning as the time for convening drew near. Nearly all were predicting the law makers would settle down immediately to turning out laws and appropriating money so as to finish the session as soon as possible.

No Legislation Today

Other than the routine business of calling the two houses to order and the disposal of minor business matters, nothing of importance was scheduled on today's calendar. The session proper will probably get under way tomorrow when a number of the committee will meet and pass out some of the bills introduced during the first half of the session.

One of the first matters to be taken up will be the governor's budget bill, which must be disposed of before any of the various other appropriation bills can be considered.

Budget Bill Nearly Ready

In a statement issued late yesterday, Speaker of the Assembly Frank F. erriani declared the budget bill had practically finished its period of probation in the ways and means committee and was almost ready to be passed out to the house.

Holiday Inn

Principal among these battles, according to the consensus of opinion among the solons, is the problem of financing the state highway program.

Several suggestions have been made as to how this may be done, but the one bill around which the controversy seems likely to center is the bill by Senator Arthur Breed.

Rumors, circulated throughout the country today that Gloria Swanson, suffering from an operation performed last Wednesday, continues in about the same condition today, according to hospital authorities at 3:40 p.m.

Rumors that Gloria had died were emphatically denied at the hospital.

The Marquis De La Falaise, husband of the actress, left the hospital at 4:30 p.m.

"We believe the crisis has passed and that my wife now is recovering," he said.

The Breed bill calls for an increase of one cent in the present gasoline tax and an increase of from $3 to $5 in the motor vehicle license fee, the proceeds to be used in the construction of new state highways. A $2,000,000 bond issue is asked for building bridges and eliminating dangerous grade crossings.

The provisions of this bill were contained in the report of Governor Richardson's committee of nine, of which Breed was chairman.

The bill has the support of the state highway commission and several chambers of commerce who gave it their endorsement.

See Reapportionment Clash

Another important matter, the outcome of which is still very uncertain, is the reapportionment problem. Three methods of re-apportionment are chief among the nine similar measures now before the legislature. One calls for a reapportionment along constitutional lines and the other two require constitutional amendments which would give farmers control of one of the houses.

Cloak room conversation indicates that the so-called three-eights, five-eighths plan, originally sponsored by the Farmer-Labor federation and the northern delegation, has been relegated to the background and that these two bodies will throw their support to a bill by Assembliesman Heisinger which is less radical in its proposals but effects almost the same results.

The fight over this problem promises to be a bitter one and although it may eventually fail in every respect, still it furnishes good "trading material" for all concerned.

Many Important Measures

Highway financing and reapportionment are not the only issues promising excitement, however. A number of measures contain

Legislature Reconvenes Today ALASKA SHAKEN BY TEMBLOR

EASTERN FILM MAGNATES AID CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN HIS SUIT AGAINST 'APLIN'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Depositions from Eastern film magnates were presented by attorneys for Charlie Chaplin today in his suit to restrain Charles Amador from using his trick makeup on the screen.

William M. Vogel, and Edward Bruce Johnson, New York producers, both testified that Chaplin's competitors have been "cashing in" on the comedian's reputation by "misleading advertising."

The public has been attracted into theaters by the thousands with the expectation of seeing Charlie Chaplin, only to be deceived, according to the depositions of Vogel and Johnson.

"There is a greater demand for Charlie Chaplin's pictures than any others among exhibitors and public," Vogel's testimony stated. "Imitators have taken advantage of this situation by appropriating Chaplin's makeup for screen purposes, and exhibitors in turn have capitalized on his reputation by false advertising of competitive films."

Canary Robber Lifts Third Bird and Cage

SANTA ANA's "canary bird" burglar continues to "do his stuff."

Members of the sheriff's office were called to the home of Ray D. Floyd, 1505 South Main street yesterday to investigate a report that a burglar had entered the Floyd home and had stolen a German Roller canary, in its cage. A lock and several wrenches were also taken.

Three canaries have been taken from Santa Ana homes during the past several days, invariably the burglar takes the cage with the bird.

Mrs. Day, according to police reports, hurled acid into her husband's face during the heat of a quarrel, and later swallowed poison in an attempt to commit suicide. She was reported in a critical condition today, while the young husband is blinded in one eye and his face may be disfigured for life.

Day and his wife recently separated following a quarrel.

The young wife, prior to the tragedy, had made repeated threats to commit suicide, according to her mother-in-law.

"She called at the home several times looking for Darby," Mrs. Day said. "She said she was going to kill herself and wanted to say good-bye."

Later, according to police, the girl attempted to throw herself from a cliff behind the home of Douglas Fairbanks.

Last night the couple met at the Day home and the acid-attack and attempted suicide followed.

Day's father is president of the Chicago Telephone company and a director in several Chicago banks.

A statement issued by the legation this afternoon said:

"Hsuan Tung (who also goes by the republican name of Harry Puyl) left Monday night without notifying the legation officials of his plans. He was accompanied by an unknown Chinese and went to the Yamato hotel, Tien Tsin, where he is in refuge.

"His two wives left today without being molested."

Rumors that Gloria had died were emphatically denied at the hospital.

The Marquis De La Falaise, husband of the actress, left the hospital at 4:30 p.m.

"We believe the crisis has passed and that my wife now is recovering," he said.

ANCHORAGE IS CENTER OF SHOCKS

Hospital Patients Shaken In Beds, Dishes Break, Clocks Are Stopped

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 24.—Anchorage suffered from a severe earthquake shock which appeared more or less general in Southern Alaska in the vicinity of the Alaska railroad.

The quake came yesterday in two separate movements, at 1:55 p.m. The disturbance was of about 20 seconds duration.

Patients in the Anchorage hospital were shaken from their beds, while reports were made of dishes broken and clocks stopped.

Word from Seward said the quake broke water pipes and topped chimneys there.

Disturbances were felt at various points along the Alaskan railroad. The cable between Seward and Valdez was broken.

HOPE OPERATION MAY SAVE EBERT

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—The condition of President Ebert, following an operation last night, when he was seized with a severe attack of acute appendicitis, was reported today to be "satisfactory."

Herbert slept peacefully after 3 a.m. A fever engendered by the operation sank to 39 degrees Celsius, which is two degrees above normal.

The suddenness of the operation confirmed reports that Ebert was seriously ill. Dr. Krueger, assistant Professor Bier, told the United Press the operation was one of the most difficult that Bier, who was physician to the late Hugo Stinnes, ever had performed. He declined to make any statement as to the patient's prospects, saying that hope lay in the army's general physical strength.

"She called at the home several times looking for Darby," Mrs. Day said. "She said she was going to kill herself and wanted to say good-bye."

her lap. For the first time in her life there is nothing that she ought to be doing. She is going to California.

Earnest, patient, calm and beautiful is her face as she looks out at the changing scene. And still more beautiful her expression as she takes the things that the waiter brings and arranges her husband's breakfast. California or no California, she will not, while she lives, lose the habit of taking care of him.

Here is not the face that launched thousand ships or burnt any towers anywhere. It's better than that.

It's the face that weaned a thousand calves, cooked 30,000 meals for family and farm hands, sewed and mended and washed for a family of children, caring for them in sickness and health, helping with the chores, and economized on herself.

"The little girl with the curls, and the plaid dress. She is our youngest granddaughter. Our daughter will be lonely without her. But they are letting us take her for a little while so she can see California while she is young. We had to wait a long while."

But the time has come at last, and they are going to California.

Every dollar they take with them, to provide for a well earned old age of peace and rest, is a dollar won by hard work. Crops raised by their hands have fed thousands. For every dollar they have had, the public has had ten dollars in value. Happy is this Nation in possessing such a State as California, in which these that have worked hard may spend their latter years, prolonging their lives and enjoying the results of hard and useful work.

Those now living will see in California, cities greater than any now on earth. They will not be cities of crowded, windy streets, but cities that will cover hundreds of square miles, spreading over hills and valleys, with beautiful roads and great landing fields for flying machines, that will bring swiftly through the air passengers that the trains now carry slowly.

The development of this Nation has only begun. California could easily feed, under intensive cultivation, the entire population of the United States.

And with the flying machine fully developed, all the people of the earth could find beautiful dwelling places on hills and mountains now uninhabited.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

All this may sound quite formidable, but it actually isn't. The proper study of style, like the proper study of mankind, is art. Some of us are well-favored by nature; to others it has been less indulgent. To make the most of our longings and the least of our shortcomings—that is the significance of style as it is intelligently construed and invariably practised by the best-dressed men.

Men's hose used to be as retiring as a well-trained servant. Now, it threatens to become our master. From simple black, white, navy, tan and gray socks are stepping out in the most vociferous colors and combinations that make a Sierra Nevada sunset look like a black cat up a dark alley on a moonless night. Are such socks really smart? Almost, but not quite. A man's feet are hardly targets for the spotlight. At their best, they are ungainly. At their worst—words fail; please pass the Dictionary. So, to honest men's hose should not be allowed, but it is the vogue among the best people and the critic hasn't a leg to stand on.

Silk and lisle socks have suffered a bit on an eclipse through the wide favor shown to wool and silk-and-wool combinations, but there are many men who will wear nothing but silk or lisle, because it agrees with their feet or their taste. From simple side clocks a broad, intertwined effect is executed in three or four colors upon a solid ground. Such clockings, if in many colors, are worn with day dress. If in black upon black or white upon black, they may accompany evening dress, though simplicity is more to be desired.

HUGE SUM IS OFFERED FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Inspired by the development of the Rhodes Scholarship Plan, Simon Guggenheim, former senator from Colorado, has announced a preliminary gift of $3,000,000 for fellowships in foreign universities. The endowment is offered in memory of his son, John Simon Guggenheim, who died while preparing for Harvard.

The purposes of the foundation are, as outlined by Guggenheim, "to improve the quality of education and the practice of the arts and professions in this country; to foster research, and to provide for the cause of better international understanding. No age limits are prescribed, but the fellowships are intended for students between 25 and 35 years.

They further differ from the Rhodes scholarships in that they are open to women and to all colors, races and creeds.

There will be about fifty scholarships of $2500 a year each.

Most of the appointments will be for one year, although where special courses warrant, they will be extended one or two years more.

The first national awards will be for the academic years 1926-1927.

The principal obligation imposed on the holders of these fellowships is that they shall produce contributions to knowledge in their special subjects and that they shall make the results of their studies publicly available.

Mrs. Harrington and the child have been temporarily detained by juvenile authorities. The woman, wife of a petty officer of the United States fleet, said the kidnapping report was apparently due to a misunderstanding with the child's mother. She said she took the child by agreement with Mrs. Humphries who was unable to provide her daughter with proper support.

According to Mrs. Humphries' story to Los Angeles police, she placed her daughter in Mrs. Harrington's custody on approval, only, and she was to be returned to her Sunday.

Jealousy, fear, poor memory, bad temper, melancholia, neuroasthenia and various other mental disorders, are now within the control of science, according to pioneers in this amazing new field.

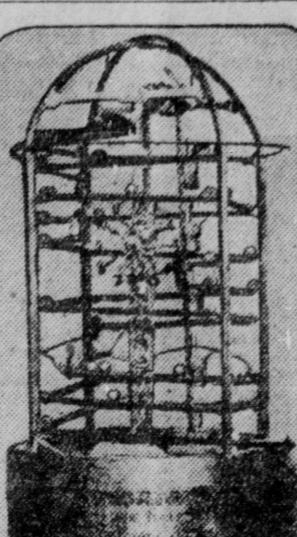

You can grow thin without starving or put on weight from overeating by undergoing the new glit treatment, surgeons claim.

Treatments consist briefly of the injection of gland extracts, according to surgeons, who made it plain the new method could in no way be compared with Voronoff's system of rejuvenation by gland transplants.

Successful cases already reported include that of a six-foot youth who was an abject coward. After a few injections of gland extracts, the treatment had to be stopped because he became a caveman.

A man who was threatened with divorce because of his bad temper, took treatment from the gland experts and now he and his wife promise to fulfill the fims of every fairy story by living happily ever after.

If you like to lie in bed after your alarm clock tells you it's time to get up, one injection of the new extract will cause you to respond to the bell like a fireman.

NEW TIME-PIECE"Dear Haskell" Is Figure In Alimony Case

The wrath of a dead romance flitted before William Haskell Pillsbury, Anaheim businessman, as he sat on the witness stand in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court today, testifying in the trial of his wife's suit for separate maintenance.

Asserted love letters from the "other woman" of long ago, were flaunted in his face, by Mrs. Pillsbury, to prove her charges of desertion. The letters, written by Mary Myers, a Pueblo, Colorado, belle of 1909, addressed Pillsbury as "Dear Haskell," and were said to represent visible proof of an "eternal triangle" that disintegrated into three separate units, as all of those concerned with it finally wended their separate ways.

Mrs. Louise Pillsbury, the wife, sat in the court room and toyed idly with a sheaf of these letters, as her attorney, E. C. Bowen, placed them before her husband. She smiled slightly as Pillsbury stoutly denied that he had "kept company" with Miss Myers, or that she had broken up his home.

Pillsbury declared his wife had abandoned him and he had then gone to Portland, Oregon, where he received the letters from Miss Myers. Subsequently, he said, he had returned to Denver and had visited his two children at his wife's home. He denied that he lived with Mrs. Pillsbury again.

In introducing the "Dear Haskell" letters Bowen explained to the court that they showed that Miss Myers had urged Pillsbury to return to his wife "for awhile," so that Miss Myers' name would not be drawn into an anticipated divorce complaint of the wife. He contended that there had been a reconciliation, and that Pillsbury had then deserted Mrs. Pillsbury.

Mrs. Laura B. Resch, business associate of Pillsbury and also a defendant in the present action, sat in the court room and listened to the resurrection of Pillsbury alleged past. Mrs. Pillsbury claims that her husband now has his property, valued at $30,000, in Mrs. Resch's name, in order to evade Mrs. Pillsbury's alimony claims. Pillsbury has been in the county jail for the last four months, having been held in contempt of court for failing $500 in arrears with an alimony order made in 1923. A previous maintenance suit was dismissed by Mrs. Pillsbury and a new action brought, including Mrs. Resch as defendant. Since then the court ordered Pillsbury to pay $100 attorney fees for his wife, and Attorney Bowen today called attention to the fact that this has not been paid. Attorney A. E. Koepsel, representing Pillsbury and Mrs. Resch, then called attention to Pillsbury's incarceration and said he had been unable to raise funds.

Koepsel denied that Pillsbury has any interest in Mrs. Resch's property, or that she owes him money. On the contrary, said Koepsel, Pillsbury owes Mrs. Resch a considerable sum.

ASH WEDNESDAY SERVICES WILL USHER IN LENT

The beautiful Forty Hours devotion in preparation for the coming of Lent, which begins tomorrow, Ash Wednesday, concluded with mass and Benediction this morning at St. Joseph's church.

Mass will be celebrated on Ash Wednesday at 8:15 a.m. at St. Joseph's church and at 8 a.m. at St. Anne's church, accompanied by the distribution of ashes, which will be again distributed at 7:30 p.m. at both churches, St. Joseph's church having Benediction.

The distribution of ashes, which are used to make a cross upon the forehead, signifies that as man came from dust unto dust he must return, and Ash Wednesday opens the season of forty days of fasting and prayer in honor of the sufferings and Passion of Jesus Christ and in preparation for His Resurrection on Easter Sunday, April 12.

The Forty Hours devotion is in memory of the forty hours Christ's body remained in the sepulcher. It was begun in Milan in 1534. The devotion owes its origin to Father Joseph, a Capuchin friar at Milan in the year 1534, the city of Milan was suffering all the miseries attendant upon war, and was reduced almost to despair, when Father Joseph called upon them for fervent prayer for 40 hours. Heaven did not delay to fulfill this assurance given by the pious servant of God.

During Lent there will be mass every morning at 8:15 a.m., Rosary every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. and Stations of the Cross every Friday at the same time.

EXPECT TO ACT ON RELIGIOUS RECESS

Action looking to endorsement or disapproval of a proposed bill, excusing pupils of the public schools for certain periods during each school week for the purpose of attending religious instruction, is expected at today's board meeting of the Santa Ana board of education, it was reported.

While local school trustees and school officials are in sympathy with the purpose of the measure, it is pointed out that the matter of excusing children from their regular school work must be made in accordance with general rules and regulations to be worked out by the superintendent of schools with the consent and approval of the school board, to be supplemented by schedules and work programs prepared by principals of the various schools.

Indiscriminate excusing of students from classes at all hours would seriously interfere with the work of the schools, hence the necessity of uniform rules and designated periods for authorized absence, it was commented.

The success of the movement will depend in great measure on co-operation between the school authorities and those charged with religious instruction, it was observed.

DISMISS COUNT IN COUNTY RAID CASE

The case of the city of Santa Ana against Ivory Shields, 20, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, which grew out of the county wide liquor raids of last November, has been dismissed by City Recorder W. F. Heathman.

Shields' case was tried in police court here on February 18 before a jury which failed to reach a decision, and on motion of City Attorney Z. B. West Jr., that the case be dismissed, City Recorder W. F. Heathman has dropped the prosecution.

Pointing out that the city had been at great expenses in the case, and that a majority of the jurors had been in favor of acquittal West asked that the case be dropped.

The complaint against women and men members of the Anti-Saloon league raiding squad, in which they are charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, is still pending in local courts. The complaint was signed by the father of Shields.

Shoplifter Gets 60-Day Sentence As Candor Fails

"Judge, my little girl needed a coat pretty bad, and when I saw that one lying there, I couldn't resist the temptation to take it. I'm guilty."

That was all the defense Alfred Austin, charged with shoplifting, had to make when his case was called before Justice K. E. Morrison today.

The coat in question was one stolen last Saturday from the Charles Spicer Dry Goods company at Fourth and Sycamore streets.

Austin was given a sentence of 60 days in the Orange county jail on the charge when it was brought out by police that Austin was driving an expensive automobile at the time of his arrest, that he carried an expensive pistol, and that his wife was making her own living by teaching school.

"So it wasn't a case of you being broke," said Justice Morrison.

"No, I don't suppose it was," Austin answered.

Burge-Ross Nuptials To Occur Today In Los Angeles

Interest of many Santa Anans centered today in the wedding of Miss Alice Burge, daughter of E. D. Burge of First and Lyon street, to Charles P. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Ross of Hollywood.

The ceremony was to be solemnized at the future home of the young people in Nottingham Lane, Los Angeles, and the bride's sister, Miss Vivienne Burge was her choice as honor maid. The betrothal of Miss Burge and Mr. Ross was announced recently at a smart tea which was given at the Los Angeles home of the Burges with a number of the honorees' friends from Zeta Tau Alpha sorority of University of Southern California as guests. Miss Vivienne Burge was among those pouring.

Miss Burge has spent the past month in Los Angeles busily engaged in her trousseau shopping and has been the incentive for many pleasant courtesies. Among them was a trousseau tea with which Mrs. Earl Courtney of Pasadena entertained last Friday afternoon.

The father of the bride-elect, E. D. Burge, is well known in Southern California yachting circles and is particularly active in the Newport Harbor Yacht club. Mr. Ross shares his father-in-law's interest in yachting and is a member of the California Yacht club.

In business life, Mr. Ross is also prominent and is junior vice-president and manager of the Pershing Square branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank in Los Angeles.

Business Women's Club

Santa Ana's need for advance as a community was brought home to members of the Business and Professional Women's club in a most convincing manner yesterday when Dr. Frank H. Patterson spoke on "Civic Enterprises" as the feature of the noon-day luncheon at St. Ann's Inn.

Dr. Patterson who recently established himself in this city after a number of years in active practice in Santa Rosa, proved to be a man whose horizons were in no wise bounded by his profession of medicine. A fact which had its explanation in his statement that to a man whose profession was to serve humanity, the best service came from an understanding of and an intelligent interest in civic affairs in connection with the practice of that profession.

The entire talk was along a very informal vein and contained much of interest in regard to the commission form of government in cities, a form which had its inception in the days following the Galveston disaster a number of years ago when the ordinary city government was found to be inadequate to deal with problems of the city's rehabilitation and a commission of business men was formed to bring order out of chaos.

Dr. Patterson related many interesting details of the government of Santa Rosa where he was deeply interested and spoke of the necessity of more advanced forms in connection with civic advancement along other lines. He touched upon the revolution of social order, the gradual growth and advancement from days of the old feudal system to the present when as he stated, "Our horizons are widened by modern methods of communication."

Santa Ana's crying needs in the matter of parks and hospitals were touched upon and the speaker decried the apathy that could allow the present conditions to prevail.

At the close of his talk many questions were asked, and their answering by the doctor, brought out still more interesting points which is hoped will elaborate on at a future talk before the club.

Miss Mary McFadden, the president, named an entertainment committee for March to consist of Miss Ruth Baker, Miss Lena Thomas and Mrs. Olive Lopez. Two guests were welcomed, Miss Nelle Summer of the Summer Art shop, and Miss Rosa Clausen of the Clausen Furniture company.

Varied In Interest Was Ebell Program Of Yesterday

Given a deeper insight into the workings of international conferences were Ebell members who yesterday afternoon heard Miss Jennie Lasby in an interesting although brief, talk on International Relations at the February general meeting of Ebell society at the clubhouse.

The afternoon's program was a varied one. It was presided over by Mrs. S. W. Stanley in the absence of the president, Mrs. Terry Stephenson. A number of matters of club interest were presented including Mrs. H. J. Forgy's report of the trees planted on the grounds surrounding the clubhouse. These include a sycamore planted by Mrs. Isabel Tucker as a memorial to her daughter and a live oak which Mrs. A. W. Ames gave as a memorial to her husband.

There are still cypress trees to be placed in accordance with the garden scheme and it was said that anyone wishing to give one or more of these in a similar manner might make arrangements with Mrs. Forgy.

Mrs. Robert G. Tuthill told of the interesting reciprocity day which she and other local Ebell members recently attended at Whittier Ebell club while Mrs. F. A. Marks told of a similar pleasant day spent with Fullerton Ebell in its new clubhouse.

An innovation will be introduced with the March general program, (presenting Gretchen Hensel Copper dramatic interpreter of Los Angeles) when non-members may have the privilege of attending by paying a small admission fee.

Miss Lasby's paper dealt primarily with the recent Geneva conference when opium and other habit-forming drugs were discussed. The speaker gave both sides of the question, that of the producing countries where opium is not consumed but where its production is the chief source of revenue and where economic loss would be great were the drug traffic stopped.

The consuming nations were then touched upon and their efforts to bring such traffic to an end wherein they would have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

The Pan-American conference was another interesting detail discussed and Miss Lasby related how that conference of the nations of South America centered their activities and discussion on immigration.

Following her enlightening talk was an interval which carried Ebell members back to childhood as they watched the marionettes presented by G. Fletcher Clark and Celia Rantz Clark, two enterprising San Franciscans who seek to revive the cleverness of the pupeteer's art.

The humorously carved little figures, operated upon the hands and fingers of the Clark's, recalled the famous Punch and Judy shows which were familiar in childhood days and which came directly from England. Yesterday's program offered three sketches, "The Singing Master" adapted from the play as presented by Parisian-puppeteers; "Dr. Faustus," a modernized version of the famous tragedy and "The Bird Feng," an adaptation of an ancient oriental fairy tale in which the "Bird Feng" with its "chee, chee, chee!" was quite as delightful as the quaint little Princess and her Prince.

WEDS IN SAN DIEGO

Fairmont Young Couple Wedded on Birthday Of Washington

Cozily established in an attractive apartment at Fourth and Garnsey streets, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Belau who chose Washington's birthday as their wedding day, are receiving the warm congratulations of a host of friends made during their few months residence in this city as well as those from their former home in Fairmount, Minn.

Mr. Belau was Miss Esther Swearingen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Swearingen of North Garnsey street and has been one of the very pleasant and efficient helpers in the Ketner confectionery since her arrival from Fairmount last summer to join her parents.

Mr. Belau is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Belau of Fairmount and last August arrived in Santa Ana where he is engaged in the bathing business.

Their marriage was a pretty event of 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and took place at the St. Peter Lutheran parsonage with the Rev. George Pauchert officiating.

Miss Swearingen wore a smart ensemble of powder blue with hat to harmonize. There were no attendants and the guests included only the closest friends in addition to members of the family.

They were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Swearingen, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stowe, Mrs. Edith Getty, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Getty and Claude Livermore all of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Setzerberg and daughter Florence of Norwalk.

Sunday evening an elaborate wedding dinner was served in the gold room at Ketner's where sweet peas, fuchsias and smilax emphasized the dainty bridal colors of pink, white and green which were apparent in place cards and all table appointments.

Turkey was the feature of a delectable menu served in four courses.

The young couple repaired to the pretty apartment which was overflowing with handsome wedded gifts and where they planned to begin house-keeping at once.

They little suspected that they were to be called upon to entertain their friends immediately but such was the case and during the course of the evening dozens of old Fairmount friends assembled to surprise them with an old-fashioned charivari for which old pans, bells and other noise-producing instruments were called into play.

The bride-groom, Mr. Belau, was thoughtful enough to make a hurried trip down town where he planned for refreshments which climaxed the merry evening.

OFFICERS HOT ON TRAIL OF 2 GEM THIEVES

Tired of Eluding Officers, Youths Surrenders Self

FULLERTON, Feb. 24.—Convinced that crime does not pay, Perry Ferguson, a youth, after spending a year hiding from authorities, staggered into the Fullerton police station, weak from hunger and exhaustion, and gave himself up, confessing to burglary which he committed more than a year ago in Santa Maria. Ferguson said he was tired of hiding and keeping himself disguised and was ready to "face the music" and clear his conscience. He has been returned to Santa Maria for prosecution.

NEW ANAHEIM CHIEF TO WAR ON SPEEDERS

ANAHEIM, Feb. 24.—Warning that traffic laws of the city, especially the speeding ordinance, will be strictly enforced, was issued today by Chief of Police Charles Nichols, who declared that a campaign against reckless driving was to be opened here at once.

Chief Nichols declared that Los Angeles street, the main connecting link between the state highways, has proven a real "race track," and that the 20-mile law should be carefully observed on this boulevard in the future.

Five speeders were nabbed by L. C. Leoney, motorcycle officer, over the week end. All were scheduled to appear today with the exception of H. J. Sweet, who paid a fine of $25 yesterday. Others included M. L. Richardson, Perry Nathan, J. V. Harmon, and William Dunn, all arrested for exceeding the speed limit in the 20-mile zone.

Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 24.—A Frances Willard memorial service was held at the grammar school auditorium recently when pupils of the high school and Washington school assembled. The meeting was turned over to Mrs. B. J. Crow, president of the local W. C. T. U. After singing "America," Martha Kelsey gave a reading on the life of Frances Willard. Miss Margaret Young, music instructor of the grammar school, sang "My Task," by Ashton.

Mrs. W. B. Harper, county W. C. T. U. president, was introduced and after a few words about Frances Willard, presented the high school with a picture of Miss Willard, which was accepted by A. D. Hoenshel, principal of the school.

In like manner she presented to the grammar school a picture identical to the one given to the high school.

S. R. Fitz, principal of the latter school, accepted the picture.

Following the assembly, the W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. C. B. Crosby for the regular meeting. Devotions were led by Mrs. E. C. Amos. Mrs. C. P. Morris gave a talk, which was followed by a discussion. Martha Kelsey read "How a Little Girl Became Famous," the story of Frances Willard. Mrs. Emma Noble read a tribute to Miss Willard, written by Colonel Sobieski. Cynthia Crow played two piano solos, after which refreshments were served.

Bottle Hurled On Street Fails to Break; Man Fined

ANAHEIM, Feb. 24.—William Frieson, 29, of Inglewood, yesterday paid a fine of $100 when he appeared before Judge Charles Kuvel on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor.

Frieson was arrested on the previous day with three companions on a charge of reckless driving, but when Motorcycle Officer Looney approached the car, a bottle of liquor was thrown from the machine. The bottle failed to break, however, and Looney secured it as evidence against the men.

The four were held in the city jail. All denied ownership of the bottle, but when arraigned yesterday morning Frieson pleaded guilty to the liquor charge and paid the fine, while a companion H. J. Sweet, pleaded guilty to the traffic violation. Two other occupants of the car, A. H. Sailor, 32, and L. H. Dodds, 21, were discharged.

Milk---

Its Cost and Value to the Family is a subject that is of vital interest to every housewife at this time. There are as many grades of milk as there are of Boarding House Hash—Good, Bad and Some Worse. There is one Positively Pure Milk, which can always be depended upon. This is CERTIFIED.

How Many Really Know What Certified Milk Is?

In the first place, "Certified Milk" is the rich, PURE milk, just as it is drawn from the cows.

A dairy producing such milk must come under the strictest inspection of the Milk Commission of the Los Angeles County Medical Association.

All cows must be tested twice each year by their Veterinarian for tuberculosis and other diseases.

Daily bacterial examination and chemical analysis are made of this milk by six bacteriologists.

Their Veterinary regularly "inspects the dairy in general, the care and cleanliness observed in milking, care of various utensils used, nature and quality of food used and all other matters of hygienic nature bearing on the health of the cows and the cleanliness of the milk and surroundings."

Physical examination of all employees is required and is made regularly.

The production of Certified Milk costs the producer more than the "other kind," therefore is a little more expensive.

There are Thousands of Children drinking the "doubtful" kind of raw milk, when the slight increase in cost necessary to obtain the PURE KIND need not be considered, and where the purchase of everything else for the table is done with the greatest care and the best is considered none too good.

TOUCHES CRIME FROM OFFICIAL POINT OF VIEW

Lack of parental respect by boys and girls means disrespect for the law and eventually results in complete contempt for the government, declared Sheriff William I. Traeger of Los Angeles county, in a masterly address on "Crime and Its Prevention" at last night's meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Keiner's cafe.

In the debate between high school students whether Santa Ana should have a civic center, the decision was awarded to the negative side.

Sheriff Traeger declared that the majority of offenders brought to the county jail are mere youths, ranging from 16 to 25 years of age. Formerly, the average age of the law violators was around 40 years, he said.

"It would make your heart sick to visit the jail and see those boys behind the bars," said Traeger. "Most of them are charged with major offenses."

In contention of his statement that crime is becoming a specialized business, Traeger cited the notorious Herbert Wilson and his gang as an example. Wilson convicted of the murder of his pal in the county jail some time ago and now under sentence for the crime, has revealed information which is not only startling but has been of great value to the peace officers, the sheriff said.

"Every man in the Wilson gang was an expert in his particular line," said Traeger. "They planned to rob a big department store in Los Angeles but before they made an attempt, they made a complete survey of the 'job.' First, one of the gang went into the store and estimated the amount of loot available. Later, one of the crooks learned how much money was kept in the store and where. Another studied the habits of the workers who remained in the place after closing hours. Another investigated to learn whether one or more of the employees could be 'bought.'

Then the "bandit cabinet" held a conference and decided the various questions. They voted to rob the store but the chance arrival of an employee who had not been accounted for disrupted their plans and the "job" was passed up."

Traeger went on to tell about the abilities of Wilson, who was a minister before he entered a life of crime. Wilson determined to be the best safe blower in the world and succeeded to such an extent that he could take the door off a safe with explosives and the sound would not be heard over 50 feet away, the sheriff declared.

Telling of burglars, Traeger related that their line is specialized, too. Some will always enter by the front door, others by the pantry window and still others by climbing to the upper story, he said.

"Paper hangers" (check passers) have their peculiar method of operation, too, he said.

"As a result of these specializations, the police, through the state bureau of identification and other agencies, are enabled to keep a close watch on these criminals," said the sheriff. "Law enforcement is not what it was at one time. Officers nowadays must be educated, they must be specialists. Above all, they must have the respect and support of the citizens."

"Crime prevention is to my mind the greatest thing in the world. Let parents teach their children to respect them and the children will grow up respecting the laws and the constitution."

The high school students taking part in the debate were Albert Harvey and William Schleicher, affirmative and Louise Turner and Kinsky Hancock, negative. Judges were Col. S. H. Finley, Z. B. West, Jr. and C. N. Mozley.

The program was arranged by a committee headed by Jesse Elliott.

Delightful orchestra numbers were rendered by a group of youngsters known as the Rotarian Melodians.

The director is Mrs. G. J. Daley and the orchestra numbers are Marcia Keebler, piano; Bob Gilbert, saxophone; Newell Vandermast, saxophone; Stanley Nelson, trumpet; Harvey French, flute; Stanton Daley, traps.

Musical readings, "The Old Family Album" and "Some Little Bug is Going to Find You," were rendered by Mrs. A. N. Crain, accompanied at the piano by Ethel Troxel Thompson. Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. Ruth Madlener, Anaheim, who rendered "Italian Waltz Song" and "Mignon." She was accompanied by Ethel Troxel Thompson.

Announcement was made that officers will be elected at the next meeting, March 9. A letter was read from the Santa Ana Advertising club asking support of the letter campaign. Letter day will be observed March 4, at which time it is planned to send thousands of letters to all parts of the world.

'JAZZ HOUNDS', SECRET 'FRATS', ARE SCORED BY H. S. PRINCIPAL

D. K. Hammond Is Confident Local School Has No Banned Organizations

ONE ORDER HERE HAS STUDENT MEMBERSHIP

School Head Outlines His Attitude With Regard to Secret Clubs

ASSURANCE that the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school harbors no banned fraternities or sororities was given today by Principal D. K. Hammond in stating that the local school will not be influenced by the recent bill introduced in the state legislature to eliminate secret organizations in public institutions of learning.

"In the school here there are no secret organizations as far as I have observed," Hammond declared.

It was admitted that there is a secret "frat" in Santa Ana with students of the high school and junior college in its membership but Hammond said that the proportionate number of students was so small that it could not be directly associated with the school.

Hot shots were fired at secret organizations in schools by Principal Hammond in his statement that they were formed of student "jazz hounds and saxophone maniacs" who organize for dances and beach parties.

In the event of finding any secret club at the school, Hammond said that strenuous steps would be taken at once to suppress it, perhaps duplicating the move of Long Beach where the high school students were required to sign pledges affirming their non-membership.

"Here we have never been confronted with secret organizations. The better type of student will not become a member of a prohibited club."

The organizations are undemocratic because they limit membership. Their influence is undesirable in a school because members show preference to other "brothers" ignoring students of more merit who will not subscribe themselves to the secret organizations," Hammond concluded.

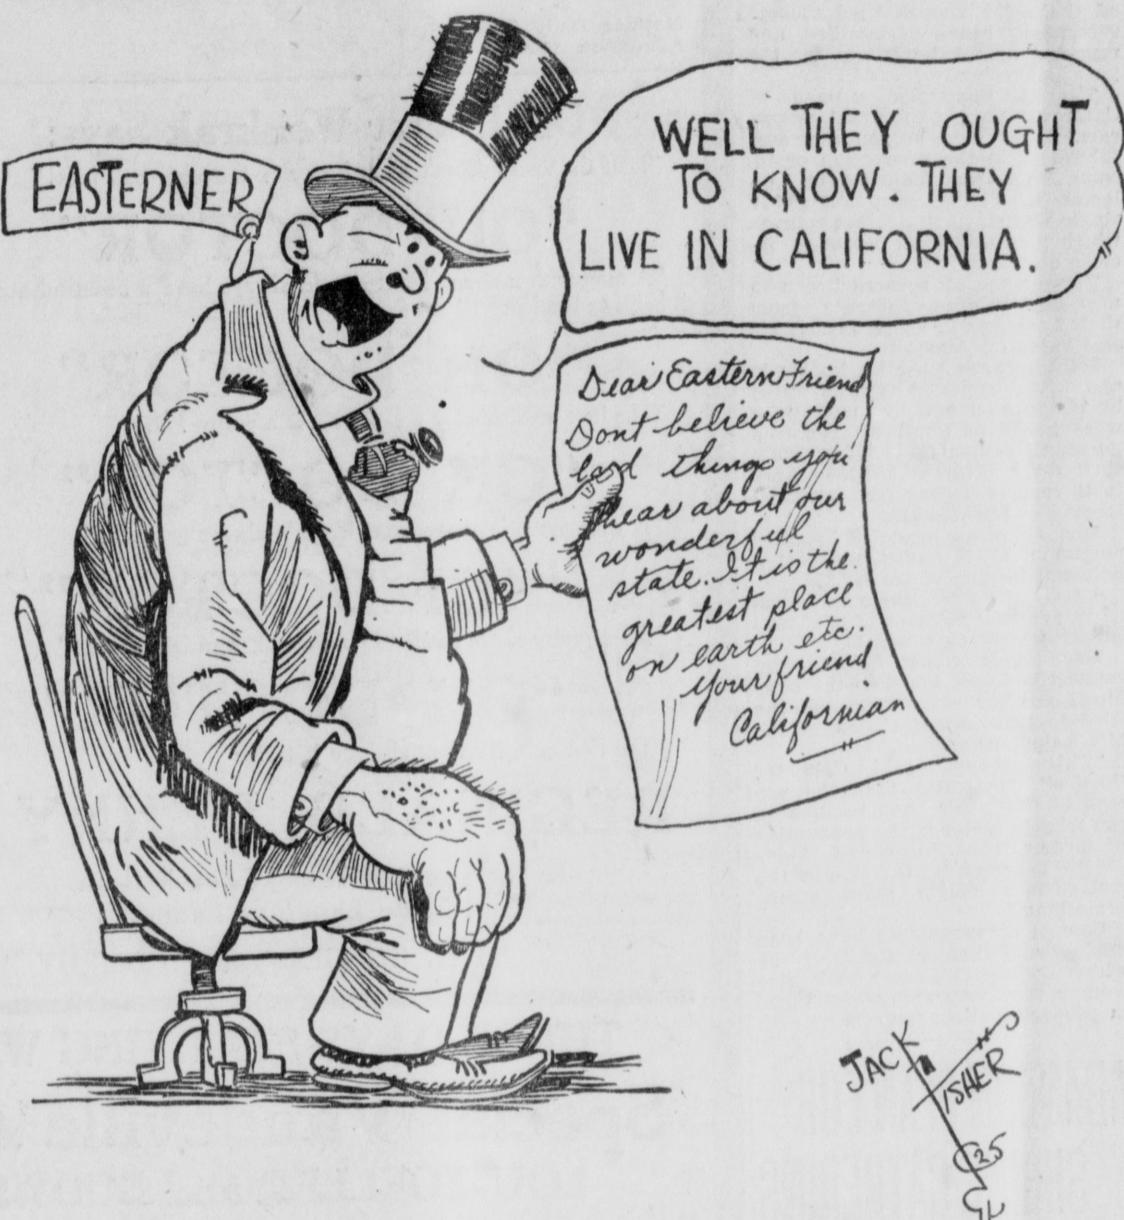

Veteran Writer May Visit S. A. On World Tour

Theodore F. Rogers, associate editor of the Philippines Free Press, Manila, P. I., and widely known in the Orient, is expected to visit Santa Ana on his present trip around the world, according to private advices received here.

Rogers belongs to the "old guard" of American newspapermen who, following the outbreak of the Spanish American war, went to the far away islands, and there started the first American papers. Because of his thorough knowledge of conditions in the Far East, his services have been sought from time to time by different commissions and investigating bodies.

The advices received here state that since leaving Manila for Europe, he has been quite ill with amoebic dysentery, contracted in Syria, necessitating his removal to the American hospital in Constantinople. While visiting here, he will stay at the St. Ann's Inn.

ONE WAY TO COMBAT HATE TALES ABOUT CALIFORNIA IS TO WRITE LETTERS TO EASTERN FRIENDS AND PUT THEM "RIGHT"

LAGUNA BEACH DEVELOPMENT IS THEME OF TALKS BEFORE COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The story of Laguna Beach, beginning with the arrival there in 1871 of the Thurston family and traced to date, was told at the meeting of the Orange County Historical society last night at the Ebell club house.

The early homesteading along the coast by the Thurston family, L. N. Brooks and others, was detailed by Miss Josephine Yoch, whose father, Joseph Yoch, was one of the early property owners at Laguna Beach and whose name has been closely identified with the beach for more than a third of a century.

J. S. Thurston, who has lived in Alice canyon at Laguna Beach since 1871, pictured the struggles of his parents, raising a large family under primitive conditions. Wild animals preyed upon their crops, and whatever crops were brought to maturity were far from market. It took five days for the father to take a load of produce to Los Angeles and return.

The story of the development of Laguna Beach as an art colony was told by Miss Anna Robertson, a Laguna Beach artist. She commenced with the first visits of Gardner Symons and St. Clair.

The next meeting of the society is to be held four weeks hence, at which time J. G. Mosbaugh, an old-time banker, will read a paper on the history of banking in Orange county.

KIWANIANS TO PLAN PROGRAM AT ZONE MEET

Officers and chairmen of the various committees of the Kiwanis clubs at Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Habra and Whittier are expected to be present and members of each of the clubs are invited to attend the ninth zone meeting of the California-Nevada Kiwanis district to be held at Elks' club, Anaheim, tonight at 6:30.

According to Col. M. B. Wellington, of Santa Ana, lieutenant-governor, Abe Leach, of San Francisco, district governor, will be present to outline to the officers and members a program of activity for all of the clubs this year.

The governor has asked for a conference with the presidents of the clubs at 6 p. m., a half hour before the general meeting.

It is expected at least 100 men from the five clubs will register at the conference.

100,000 YEARS AGO

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The skull found at Broken Hill, Rhodesia, in 1921, is believed to be that of a man 100,000 years old, Sir Arthur Keith, conservator of the Royal College of Surgeons' Museum, says. "We cannot fit in this skull with any type of man with which we are familiar," he says. The skull strongly resembles a gorilla, but the placing of the bones indicated the prehistoric man could walk upright.

Everyone is urged to enter into this campaign by writing one or more letters to some friend back East, selling Santa Ana and boosting the Southland in general.

A letter sent to your old home town newspaper will be of invaluable assistance in making this letter drive a hundred per cent success. Letters should be stamped ready for mailing before being placed in the Ad Club's barrels.

The letters will be collected each night and held for mailing on March 4. Every service club in the city, the schools and the merchants will cooperate. The drive will be advertised on billboards, on the screens of the local theaters in the store windows, by banners on trucks and stickers on pleasure cars. No detail has been overlooked by the Ad Club's Letter Day committee, headed by Chairman D. L. Coover, in making the preliminary arrangements for this week's campaign which will cause thousands of boosting letters to go forth in an effort to "stop the Eastern mail with Santa Ana mail."

Information and literature regarding Santa Ana will be cheerfully supplied by the Chamber of Commerce information bureau.

The Advertising Club's letter campaign will begin tomorrow morning and last one week, ending Wednesday, March 4, when all letters which have been placed in the letter barrels, which will be placed around the city tomorrow morning will be mailed.

The Ad Club's letter campaign is the permanent property of Miss Mateer. It was given by the high school Spanish club through the American Association of Spanish Teachers.

In addition to the examination, a program of musical numbers was arranged by Miss Frothingham, high school Spanish teacher, in conjunction with C. D. Chamberlain of the Frances Willard junior high school.

The program included a violin selection by Miss Georgia Bell Walton, canto by Miss Lois Spangler and Miss Eleanor Richardson, flute solo by James Price, songs by Frank Johnson and Jesus Garcia, a Spanish dance by Ruth Singer, and the play "Romeo and Juliet," by the Spanish students of the Julia Lathrop junior high school under the direction of Miss Chamberlain.

There are six reels of 1000 feet each. They never have been run in public. They were filmed by a friend of Cavenagh, under direction of the Dutch government and sent to Cavenagh for preservation.

The reels are held in a vault in Los Angeles, and will be brought here for the show this evening.

Two other films, one showing operation of an automobile factory, and the other presenting in detail the factory operations in the manufacture of a spark plug, will add interest to the program.

A comedy film also will be presented, the latter being a contribution by E. D. Tost of Tost's theater.

The factory pictures are being provided by O. A. Haley and Harlowe.

In addition there will be a special program of music by members of the auto trades association.

The pictures start at 8 p. m. The program will be about two and one-half hours duration.

O. A. Haley, president of the association, emphasized the point that the admission is free and that nothing will be offered for sale.

"We have arranged the program strictly as an entertainment feature for the general public and as an appreciation for many courtesies shown the organization by the police," Haley said.

FIVE ACTS ON YOST PROGRAM HERE TONIGHT

Five acts of first class vaudeville are promised patrons of the Yost theater who visit this popular playhouse tonight or tomorrow night.

A resume of the program follows:

With an abundant supply of special scenery and four complete changes of wardrobe, the McKinley Sisters will do a superb singing and dancing revue.

He makes a fire destroy a kitchen, eat its way up a staircase and finally roam along a great hallway.

It blazes around Betty Compson.

Theodore Roberts, Kathryn Williams, Theodore von Eltz and Robert Edeson, who are featured in the picture, and about other players who appeared as guests at a fashion show home.

William de Mille proves himself a master firebrand in his latest production, "Locked Doors," coming to the Yost tonight.

Men filling as heads of families numbered 23,171 and they reported personal income of $63,647,855.

A total of 110,588 single men turned in personal incomes of $237,188,708, on which tax was paid.

More single women filed income returns in California than the combined number of similar returns filed in twenty states west of the Mississippi river.

"This survey," said Collector Goodcell, "indicates that the women of California have become a remarkable factor in the production of income taxes. Income of $160,500,000 reported for taxation by the women of a single state means something."

Special arrangements have been made by Collector Goodcell by which Deputy Collectors will give women taxpayers every assistance in preparing their returns.

WOMEN OF STATE SHOW BIG INCOMES

An army of 55,000 California women reported personal income amounting to $160,503,614 in 1923, and paid tax on it, according to figures which became available yesterday and were made public by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex G. Goodcell. More women are filing returns this year than ever before in the history of the local Internal Revenue Bureau.

The income reported by these women was $15,000,000 more than the combined personal income of all classes turned in by the States of Arizona, Utah and New Mexico.

Collector Goodcell's survey showed that 8600 women filed income returns as heads of families, and reported personal incomes for the year amounting to $25,204,115.

That the unmarried women of California are not only real wage-earners, but have become a powerful factor in the production of income taxes, was indicated by Collector Goodcell's report that 40,319 single women filed separate returns which disclosed total personal income of $93,654,545.

There were 6202 married women who filed returns separate from their husbands in which $41,644,956 was listed for taxation.

Joint returns filed by husbands and wives, separate returns filed by single men and by men who were heads of families, reported personal income of $1,197,020,908.

Of these returns 232,634 were joint reports calling for personal income of $896,184,545.

Men filing as heads of families numbered 23,171 and they reported personal income of $63,647,855.

A total of 110,588 single men turned in personal incomes of $237,188,708, on which tax was paid.

More single women filed income returns in California than the combined number of similar returns filed in twenty states west of the Mississippi river.

"This survey," said Collector Goodcell, "indicates that the women of California have become a remarkable factor in the production of income taxes. Income of $160,500,000 reported for taxation by the women of a single state means something."

Special arrangements have been made by Collector Goodcell by which Deputy Collectors will give women taxpayers every assistance in preparing their returns.

Circumstances made this creature of a not unusual mental quirk a guest in the home of a robust aunt, and also a borrower from three Shylocks who loaned him only on his signed agreement to turn over to them the entire fortune he would inherit if he lived for three years.

Much of the comedy in the story is furnished by the anxiety of the Shylocks to keep their creditor alive the allotted space of time, and after a number of unfortunate experiences they employ a beautiful nurse, in the hope that she will furnish him some interest other than his own physical condition.

HARRY WILLSON IN WALKER'S VAUDEVILLE ACT

Walker's theater has a clever entertainer in Harry S. Willson, composer of many popular songs. Willson, in presenting "Radiology," gives his impression of the different characters one hears over the radio. All of Willson's numbers are compositions of his own. He has a wonderful personality, and one is taken to him immediately by his jovial and radiant smile. It is an act that can be relied on to always furnish the maximum of perfect entertainment.

It has long been recognized that the most effective way to treat colds is to apply the medication directly to the affected parts. This of course can only be done by means of vapors that can be inhaled.

Vicks provides the ideal method of securing medicated vapors. When rubbed over throat and chest the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme, Turpentine—are vaporized by the body heat and inhaled directly into the air passages and lungs.

At the same time, Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster, affording a double action which brings truly remarkable results.

Visit Former Santa Ana Man Now In Prison

Home today from San Francisco where he tarried a few days after assisting in the delivery of prisoners from here to San Quentin, Fred Marsile brought information of two old time residents of Santa Ana.

While he did not get to speak he prospered.

to him, he saw at San Quentin Walter Baker, who many years ago was on the Santa Ana police force, and who at the time of his residence here was prominent in political and social circles. According to Marsile, Baker is serving a twenty year term for the murder of his sixth wife.

Walter Freeman, who also was a prominent lad here many years ago, is working on the San Francisco Examiner as a linotype operator. Marsile says Freeman is the head of a happy family, and appeared to be prosperous.

Pensions amounting to 72,000,000 pounds (about $350,000,000) were paid to war veterans and dependents of those killed in the World War by the British government in 1924.

Contest With County Loop Champions Next If Game At Riverside Is Success

Santa Ana high school's Class C (110-pound) basketball team, 1925 champions of the Coast Preparatory league, will begin playing off semi-final games in defense of its Southern California title Friday night. Coach Ed Covington announced today. Hemet, champion of the Riverside county league, will be the opponents for the local midgets. The game will be played at Riverside, neutral ground.

Preparatory to this important skirmish, Covington today sent his crack quintette against Anaheim high school's 130-pound five this afternoon. A match with the Huntington Beach Class C squad is on the books for tomorrow afternoon. Thursday will be an off-day as Covington doesn't want his men to go stale.

The strength of the Hemet team is virtually unknown. Hemet, however, smothered all its opposition during the season and goes against Covington's youngsters an unbeaten quintette. Whether Hemet has tangled with the class of opposition that Santa Ana has beaten is problematical.

Santa Ana should win but Covington is making no predictions because it was an entirely unheralded team—Excelsior—that knocked off his team for the first and only time this season.

If the locals win, they will go against the winner of the Orange County League. Orange, Huntington Beach and Anaheim finished the regular season in a triple tie and must engage in a play-off between themselves to settle their controversy. Since Santa Ana has "taken" Huntington Beach several times by large scores and has won from both the Orange and Anaheim Class B (130-pound) aggregations it is inconceivable that their 110-pound outfits could give the locals anything more than a workout. Rules are rules, however, so Poly will take on whoever wins unless Hemet spills the dope bucket.

The local henchmen are in splendid condition so they will have no excuses if they are defeated. It has been a long season for the Poly youngsters but they are going better right now than they have at any time during the campaign, Covington claims.

The Hemet game will see "Lory" Walbridge and Merle Youel at forwards, "Ten-Point" Smith at center and Captain "Whitey" White and Odie Goodman at guards.

CHALLENGE OF HARRY, TOMMY UP TO MOGULS

Gibbons Ready to Box Any Heavyweight, Any Place and Anytime Is Claim

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Challenges for the heavyweight championship filed by Tom Gibbons and Harry Wills were to be considered by the New York Boxing commission at its regular meeting here today.

Two members of the commission, it was understood, were to vote that Gibbons and Wills should meet to decide the next opponent for Jack Dempsey or to succeed him as the champion in the event that he decides definitely to retire from the ring.

Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, who filed his challenge last week, was to leave today for Chicago.

"There is nothing more for me to do," Kane said. "I am willing to accept any proposition that is offered by the commission. Gibbons is willing to meet any heavyweight and that goes. He is claiming the heavyweight championship and he is willing to meet anyone who disputes his claim."

Kane doubted that Wills would agree to participate in an elimination contest with Gibbons.

"When Wills was offered a contest with Gibbons last December in the feature bout for the benefit of the Christmas fund, he turned it down because of bad hands," Kane said. "We think his hands are still bad."

Paddy Mullins, Wills' manager, said he would have to think over any proposition offered by the commission.

With spring training for both the Los Angeles and Vernon teams under way, the holdouts were getting a good share of attention and it developed that Ken Penner and Ed Bryan, star Tiger hurlers, were still unsigned. Denny Murphy, catcher, has not sent in his contract although he may be bringing it with him from Connecticut.

Courtney Is Sold To Atlanta Club

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Harry Courtney, leading pitcher of the Pacific Coast league in 1923, was sold to the Atlanta club of the Southern league by the Vernon Tigers today.

Courtney led the western circuit two years ago and helped San Francisco win a pennant. He was recalled by the Chicago White Sox and sold to Vernon.

REPORTER CAN TAKE COMFORT FROM HISTORY

Author Points Out Popular Falacies Concerning Alleged Heroes

When we consider that Hudson did not discover New York bay, but that Verrazano did; when we consider that Fulton did not invent the steamboat, but that Fitch did; when we consider that Bell did not invent the telephone, that Morse did not invent the telegraph, that Gutenberg did not invent the printing press, that Morton did not discover anesthesia, that Darwin did not discover evolution, that Shakespeare did not write Hamlet, that Homer did not write the Iliad, that Washington did not win the battles of the Revolution, that Robespierre did not create the Reign of Terror, that Nero was not a monster, that Cleopatra was not beautiful—

When we reflect that history is emblazoned with titles of usurpers and that true merit lies unchronicled in the grave, let us address a word or two of apology to that much berated enemy of truth, the newspaper.

If history, with a thousand years of leisure at her disposal, cannot find out just who set up a new throne or pulled down an old one, let us forgive the reporter if he mis-spells the Christian name of the prominent citizen who was thrown from his automobile at 2:30 p.m.—Lucy Maynard Salmon in "The Newspaper and the Historian".

Beach Students Work On Annual

HUNTINGTON BEACH UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Feb. 24.—With the work of the various departments of the Cafeteria, high school year book, already under way every effort is being made by the staff to make the book better than ever before.

One of the many interesting steps in the preparation of the book this year was a trip taken by members of the staff to the plant of the Los Angeles Engraving company, last week.

Various year books were looked over, and many interesting points were brought out during the trip. Several new features will be added to the year book this year as a result of the investigation.

Among those who went were Miss Hubbard, advisor of the staff; Miss Blanche Helm, editor-in-chief; Leslie Salm and Miss Gilda Fader, art editors; and Miss Lynette Robb, snapshot editor.

It is expected that the book will be ready for distribution about two weeks before the close of school.

MAKE CHANGES IN RULES FOR DEBATE CLASH

County High School Contest to Be Held at Mission City March 22

By ELIZABETH UTT

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Feb. 24.—Decided changes have been made in the program for the Orange County Forensic contest which will take place May 22 at San Juan Capistrano high school.

Some time before the contest the seniors are to be given a general topic on which they must talk. One hour before the contest they are each given an individual phase of the topic and without the aid of books or magazines must prepare a four minute speech to be given without the aid of notes.

The juniors are to write essays of a thousand words which are to be judged solely on their literary merit. The winning essay will be read or printed.

The sophomores are to make a four minute speech on some subject such as "My Ideas of Uniform Dress in the High School," "My Opinion of the Merit System," "What Is An Ideal American?"

The freshmen are to study the works of a certain author. One hour before the contest each one will be given a definite piece by this author which, with the help of a dictionary, he may practice reading. These reading assignments will take five minutes.

It is thought that these changes in the program will greatly improve the forensic contest this year.

ANOTHER PEACE CONFERENCE

Informal diplomatic conversations aimed at staging another arms conference are under way in the principal capitals of the world. These conversations have been going on during the most part of the time President Coolidge has been in office. At present the indications are not at all promising.

Great Britain is willing to cooperate with the United States in every respect. France and Japan, however, are not quite so enthusiastic over such a conference. France is afraid that a conference of this type would stop a stop to the military and naval plans she is forming on the continent. Japan feels that she was slighted at the last conference, held at Washington. Each nation has some reason why it should not put any limitations on armament. Japan claims that her arms are for defense. France claims that she is surrounded by hostile countries and therefore she must arm to protect herself. Every nation distrusts every other nation. It has been so since the world began and people began to form clans.

Why is it that this world has so little faith? It is not because the common mass of the people are afraid of each other. The great mass of the people in the world hate war and would do anything to abolish it. The people who want war are the money making class who own munitions factories and industries that thrive on war. The Christian Science Monitor proposes a plan by which war may be eliminated. The proposal is to amend the constitution of the United States in this manner: All personal property as well as life would be confiscated to the government during the time of war. In this way war would be made very unprofitable to everyone. Many things have been tried, all have failed. Perhaps this plan might be successful. Who knows?

He came across it the other day and a translator "broke the news" to him that back in 1901 he had won the first prize for the best cheese at a Paris exhibition. He has sent for the gold medal, as directed to do by the old letter.

THE VALUE OF HOBBIES

When Thomas A. Edison started on his successful career his hobby had always been pertaining to various mechanisms. As a result of this hobby, Mr. Edison has accomplished marvels which have left many in consternation and wonder. When Guglielmo Marconi was a mere boy, he showed deep interest in and unusual aptitude for electrical science. Coming as it did to his untiring attempts, he invented a remarkable and uncanny mechanism which has rendered possible the transmission of messages through the air. Without a doubt, radio and telegraphy are the culmination of what was once an unusual pastime for the boy Marconi. And so it is that almost every human being has a hobby. To some (but there are in the minority) their chief hobby is to sleep, while others will doubtless give to the world just such wonders as Marconi and Edison have. Some love to read and, through it, they acquire the knowledge over which others labor for years. Without hobbies there would be no inventions for there would be no dreams or visions—without hobbies the poet would receive no inspiration and the author would be unable to write. It has been said that an individual does best what he prefers to do. How true this is! Hobbies are the means of advancement for all mankind and the ideas of all geniuses that are, ever have been, or ever will be.

WE ARE VITALLY INTERESTED

All Southern California "sat up and took notice" when Mayor George F. Cryer announced his candidacy for re-election as mayor of Los Angeles. Ordinarily we are not greatly interested in the municipal contests of the metropolis. But in the one that lies before Los Angeles, we are vitally interested, for it involves the attitude of Los Angeles toward the influence of Los Angeles upon the control of the Colorado river.

Clearly and forcefully, Mayor Cryer points to the "interests" which, he says, are gradually taking control of public affairs in this state. Those same interests elected Congressman Fredericks, and Congressman Fredericks did their will when he introduced a bill into Congress to make the Boulder Dam project a mere flood control project instead of a project for flood control, water conservation and power development. Congressman Fredericks thereby exposed himself as the tool of the Los Angeles Times, which is fighting to prevent a decision at Washington upon the Boulder dam project so that the acreage put under water by the Harry Chandler syndicate, which owns 800,000 acres in Mexico, may be increased and rights of usage thereby be established.

The statement issued by Mayor Cryer contains the following:

Los Angeles, and all of Southern California, must have an abundant supply of domestic water and cheap power from the Colorado river. With these our future is assured. Without them the limit of our growth and development is already in sight. In order to obtain them we must induce the government to build a high dam at Boulder Canyon. We shall never attain this objective until we demonstrate to the world that we are resolved to make its attainment the paramount issue in our municipal affairs. We must demonstrate that our people are not to be sidetracked in their purpose by personalities or blinded by more political dust storms.

In the last election the people of the Eleventh congressional district placed themselves squarely on record in this matter. The Boulder dam project was made the issue, and in the triumphant nomination and election of Congressman Swing by an overwhelming majority they placed themselves squarely on record as favoring the full and logical development of that project.

By the nomination and election of a Congressman whose record and affiliation did not place him among the friends of municipal ownership, or of public construction and control of the Boulder Canyon project, Los Angeles placed herself in an equivocal position on this matter. By his recent actions, as our representative in Congress, in introducing in that body a bill providing for a mere flood-control dam on the Colorado, of low storage capacity, Los Angeles was placed in an attitude of opposition to the Boulder Dam Association of Southern California, and of opposition to all of the friends and proponents of public development and control of the Colorado river project.

The same interests which won the last Congressional election in this city and which, through a lack of watchfulness on the part of the people, are gradually taking control of public affairs in this state, are moving to capture the city government of Los Angeles.

If they can elect the next Mayor and a majority of the Council of Los Angeles they can reorganize the Department of Public Service and defeat, or very greatly jeopardize, the plan for public development and control of the Colorado River project.

Control of our publicly owned water and power enterprise and of our harbor, with its boundless possibilities for gain is the immediate objective of these interests.

There is grave danger that they will succeed unless the people wake up.

The issue that is being forced upon the voters is plain to those who have lived here long enough to get the political background and to realize the significance of what is going on.

In the face of the issue personalities assume secondary importance.

However, no candidate may safely be considered apart from his record, his sponsors and his affiliations.

I stand four-square for a high dam on the Colorado river, and for an all-American canal, as outlined in the Swing-Johnson bill, and for public ownership and control of the project. With me there is no compromise on that issue. The issue as plainly stated by Mayor Cryer explains why the Los Angeles Times has been so enthusiastically boosting the candidacy of Judge B. F. Bledsoe for mayor of Los Angeles. Whether the Times is more for Bledsoe than it is against Cryer, we do not know. We suspect that its enthusiasm for Bledsoe is entirely due to the fact that Mayor Cryer stands unalterably in favor of the control of the Colorado river for the people and by the people. The Times wants the Colorado river controlled for Harry Chandler and his crowd and by Harry Chandler and his crowd, which crowd includes the power trust.

AUSTRALIAN-AMERICANS

Ever since America was discovered, men have been trying to find where the natives came from. The usual theory has been that our "Indians" came from Asia, by way of Alaska and the Bering Sea.

Now Dr. Rivet, a French anthropologist, declares his belief that North and South America were settled from Australia and the islands of the Pacific. He finds the evidence most convincing as regards the so-called "Hoka" group of Indian tribes from Oregon to Lower California, and for the "Tson" group, including the Patagonians and Tierra del Fuegians.

He finds certain words, used to indicate objects common to all mankind, used alike by all the Australian tribes, and also used by American tribes. Thus the Australian word for man is "nonga," and the South American word "nooken"; the Australian word for tongue "tale" and the South American word "taal"; the Australian word for nose "oro" or "woro" and the South American word "or" or "orra."

The North American tribes have identical words with the natives of Melanesia and Polynesia, extending toward America eastward from Australia. In those island languages man is "tama" and in the Hoka Indian language "tampa." Other examples are "wahine" and "huahen" for woman, "ihu" in both cases for nose, "himene" and "ihim" for sing and "laa" and "alla" for sun.

The stream may go back to Asia, at that, but very remotely. Dr. Rivet does not believe that the "first man" was an Australian, hence the Australians must have come from somewhere else in boats. And apparently navigation has played a great part in the prehistoric life of mankind, as tribes filtered from island to island and continent to continent across the great sea spaces.

National Co-operative Problems

Fresno Republican. We need not be surprised if the attempts to apply the co-operative marketing principle to products like wheat meets with much grief.

Just as, during the last 30 years, the fruit men in California have been going forward, step by step, on painful feet, trying to find out how best to work together, and are only now in the last few years profiting by their old experiences, so the wheat men, who are just beginning to think in terms of product co-operation, will have much disappointment to go through before they find themselves.

It is not necessary to assume that a man like the representative of the Kansas Wheat Growers' association is opposed to the best interests of co-operation when he attacks the report of the President's agricultural commission, which reported a schedule of acts for furtherance of co-operation. He merely has a different point of view, but is striving to the same objective.

The chief difference in point of view is one of regarding our foreign markets as an "opportunity" or of thinking of them as a dumping ground for what we cannot use ourselves.

The theory back of McNary-Hagen bill was that it would be the best thing possible to sell to foreigners things that we could not use ourselves. It is the "dumping" theory.

Whereas, the work of the agricultural commission was directed chiefly toward maintaining and developing the domestic market, and to prevent overproduction with reference to this domestic market.

Too many of the wheat farmers and their organizations have maintained that the Government should "take care" of the overproduction. This is why there is a feeling that Secretary Hoover is improperly dominating the policies of the administration, in agriculture.

The real difference is not over the personality of Hoover, but regarding the validity of the dependence of American agriculture on foreign markets.

A Tremendous Casualty List

San Bernardino Sun. During the year 1924 there were in California more than 200,000 persons injured in industrial accidents. Of these 656 died, about $5,000 were so injured that they lost more than a day's work, and the remainder, some 115,000, were able to resume work the same day. Omitting the latter, though doubtless most of these were less efficient for a few days than in normal condition, we find that not less than $5,000 days of labor were lost. It would probably not be high to estimate a minimum of three days as the average loss of time, which means 250,000 days. At a minimum average wage of $5 a day this would mean $1,250,000 lost in wages.

This loss has been borne by employers instead of workers, as was the case before the state compensation insurance fund was created. That is a material difference, especially, as under former conditions medical attendance, hospital bills, etc., also had to be paid by the injured, and many of them also expended large sums in a futile effort to collect damages by legal proceedings. Now all these expenses are covered for the injured persons and the courts are not being clogged with damage suits. It would be interesting to know just how much expensive litigation has been averted by this compensation system.

But, whether much difference in the courts has been made or not, it is evident that both employers and employees are better off under the state insurance system. That this fact is being appreciated by employers is shown by the increase in the premiums received by the commission. These premiums amounted to $5,739,827, of which $3,240,000 was paid for compensation and medical attention and $1,849,000 was returned to the policy holders. Since the system was established in 1914, total premiums have exceeded $31,000,000, of which $15,500,000 has been paid for injuries, $7,900,000 returned to employers and the fund has present assets to the amount of $6,168,000. Add to this splendid financial condition of workers as compared with the former system the better feeling between employer and employee, the greater incentive on the part of the workers, and the value of the system should be plain to all.

Fair play and clean tactics are as applicable to modern business methods as to modern sports and ethics—there is a desire on the part of the great majority of business men to consider honor and integrity in business relationships as carefully as in the personal relationships of life.

Perhaps one of the very last businesses to evolve an ethical code has been the newspaper. Few but can remember the personal criminalities and recriminations with which the daily papers once teemed—each feeling that the day's work was hardly finished unless the wicked pen had taken a few jabs, often of a most personal nature, at the offending rival contemporary. And while there must always be the wide divergence of opinions in matters of editorial policy, the ethics of journalism have outgrown the old personal attacks of abuse and contempt between papers of entirely different views and opinions and editorial comment and rejoinder is largely confined to discussing principles and ideals, rather than in indulging in the old-time personal settos.

When an ethical code applying to the various human relationships shall have been evolved and put into general use, solutions to many vexatious problems will be found. That throughout this and other countries there is growing up a new conception of ethics as applied to business and commercial competition is a matter for gratification to the competitors and to all who have dealings with them.

Mr. Allen was passionately fond of Nature—like Thoreau and others of New England. But Mr. Allen spent the great part of his life in his beloved Kentucky and in his books are exquisite descriptions of landscapes and simple life which will be rated as classic.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

SUGAR AND WEIGHT. Someone has been telling us lately that there are more stout men and women about, than there were a few years ago. Some of our older folks are pointing out that fifty years ago stout people were rather rare. They maintain that it was because everybody worked hard in those days, both men and women. That there was something for everybody to do. There were horses and carriages of course, but most people walked the ordinary distances to work or to market.

Someone makes a suggestion that sounds very reasonable. He suggests that it is the tremendous amount of sugar used on this continent, that accounts for the increase in the number of stout people we see on our streets, and also for the general increase in weight, in the average man and woman past thirty.

In former days sugar was a luxury. The system got all the sugar it needed from the starches in the vegetables. Sugar was not manufactured to the same extent, and was expensive to buy. It is stated that the world uses fifty times as much sugar now as was used a century ago. Now sugar is a good food, perhaps the cheapest and best energy producer in existence. It is so easy and convenient to use, that its tremendous use is only to be expected.

However, although Insulin now combats diabetes successfully, nevertheless there is no question but that most people take too much sugar, as sugar. I refer to the amount that is used in tea and coffee, and in all the sweet concoctions now at our command. Pure sugar candy, and the various chocolate confections all contain a great quantity of sugar, and are all good foods and energy producers.

A chocolate bar, or a good taffy stick, will often tally fatigue. However my point is, that the day you eat your "box of chocolates" you should cut down on your vegetables. Further if you put "lots of sugar" on and in everything, don't be surprised if your weight increases. Of course a little regular exercise would use up the sugar and prevent weight increase.

The stream may go back to Asia, at that, but very

The able discussion of "The Relationship Between Competitors" by Frank Kent at the last meeting of the Rotary club very clearly emphasized the revolution that has taken place in business ethics during the past few years. Of course, there have always been men in all kinds of businesses whose ethics were above reproach but the evolving of an ethical code to be observed generally between competitors has been a matter of time and education.

So rapidly has ethical conduct taken over the field of business relationships between competitors that any business man resorting to unethical methods of abusing, reviling and belittling his competitor would at once arouse not only the resentment but the suspicion of his associates in other lines of business. They would question what was wrong with the man's own institution that he found it necessary to try to undermine a competitor instead of meeting him in a fair field of competition.

Fair play and clean tactics are as applicable to modern business methods as to modern sports and ethics—there is a desire on the part of the great majority of business men to consider honor and integrity in business relationships as carefully as in the personal relationships of life.

O happy Barque, and art thou home at last, The harbor gained, the travail overpast? What matter riven side and ragged sail? Still flies the flag that hath defied the gale.

O happy Barque! Nor be thy triumph mute: The whispering seas divide. Thy pilot now The homeward course directs, at whose behest The winds are hushed, the troubled waves at rest.

O happy Barque! Nor be thy triumph mute: Now vail thy pennant, now the shore salute! Then furl thy wings—far, far behind thee foam The foiled and vanquished waters.

Thou art home.

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

WHEN wee little tots have a deviltry streak, the things they can do are a fright. You never can tell by a face that looks meek what is brewing from morning till night.

I know of a youngster who's cute as can be, and as darling a tot as they make 'em. But whatever rules of the house there may be, she's surely the one who can break 'em.

A pencil, perhaps, is left lying around, and soon from the kitchen to hall, a casual look and it's ready found that she's written all over the wall.

The jam's hidden high but a chair stands by the window, and the little one drags it in place. Then Mom will appear, sister registers fear 'cause there's something all over her face.

It's funny the daring-like look that breaks out when she's caught in her deviltry play. "Why I didn't do any nuttin'—she'll shout, in her typical innocent way.
